Fort Bend Battery was started in 1982 as a wholesale and retail battery outlet. The golf cart repair part of the business was introduced in 1992 due to the request of many and to the lack, in our opinion, of committed service centers for golf carts in Houston and vicinity.

As the owner of Fort Bend Battery I believed in offering total customer service at a reasonable fee. Highly educated technicians backed by my companies motto of total service to all when you need it and at your convenience five days a week. Complete customer satisfaction treating people the way we liked to be treated.

As our company grew and expanded we were asked by Yamaha to assist them in keeping up with the demand for service and customer satisfaction. We offer on site repairs, cart maintenance, warranty service and technical education to golf course personal.

In 1994, with our service department covering all of the state of Texas, necessity dictated we expand again into golf cart sales. By 1995 we had out grown our fourth location and needed more room so we built a new complex, as seen in the photo, of 12000 square feet adding to our previous 5000 square foot facility. In the year 2000 we had taken on the task of becoming a distributor of Yamaha Golf Carts for South Texas and are currently the only Yamaha Golf Cart distributor in Texas.

By the year 2001 we were once again expanding and started the customizing of multi passenger people movers and utility carts.

Yamaha

Ever since Torakusu Yamaha built his first organ in 1887, the name Yamaha has stood for innovation and ingenuity. But what really gave the Yamaha name a boost of power was the creation of Yamaha Motors in 1955. From this beginning came some of the world's most celebrated motorcycles, water vehicles, racing engines, ATVs and golf cars.

Today, Yamaha is a leading manufacturer of musical instruments and high quality audio/visual products, and one of the largest producer of Motor Sports products in the world. Yamaha's product lines have expanded to include boats, unmanned helicopters and industrial robots.

Yamaha is the best at what they do: designing products, making products, and servicing the customers who buy our products.
